Welcome and Opening Remarks

Dr. Doris Grinspun, RNAO CEO
RN, MSN, PhD, LLD(hon), Dr(hc), FAAN, O. ONT.
RNAO mourns the death of George Floyd and all those who have succumbed to anti-Black racism and violence.

RNAO stands together with sisters and brothers who continue to suffer the scourge of anti-Black racism and discrimination everywhere. RNAO unequivocally condemns racism, oppression and discrimination in all forms. In light of recent atrocities in the United States, Canada and around the world, we stand in solidarity with the loved ones of those who have suffered at the hands of law enforcement and those who experience gross inequities because of the colour of their skin.

Webinar Objectives

• Provide a brief overview of the historical context of Anti-Black racism within Ontario and Canada’s education sector

• Discuss anti-Black racism and systemic inequities within Ontario's largest district school boards—with a focus on how new findings affect black people from preschool through to graduate education

• Describe some of the impacts of systemic anti-Black racism on enrollment in 'academic vs. applied' course streams and 'college vs. university' post-secondary pathways

• Describe systemic barriers that impede opportunities for Black students to succeed in the education system

• Highlight strategies and approaches to address anti-Black racism and discrimination in nursing educational programs

• Discuss opportunities for the supportive practice of mentoring in educational systems for Black nurses
Update on Black Nurses Task Force

Co-Chairs:
Angela Cooper Brathwaite & Corsita Garraway

Meeting #1:
July 29, 2020

Mandate:
To actively tackle anti-Black racism and discrimination within the nursing profession – its organizations, regulatory body, associations and the broader health system targeted towards and experienced by Black nurses.

Understanding Anti-Black Racism in the Education System: From Preschool to Graduate School

Monday August 17, 2020
Understanding Anti-Black Racism in the Education System: From Preschool to Graduate School

- Stephen Lewis Report on Race Relations in Ontario, 1992
- TDSB begins collection of demographic data
- Towards Race Equity in Education: the Schooling of Black Students in the Greater Toronto Area, April 2017, Dr. Carl James with Tana Turner
- Review of York Region District School Board, Suzanne Herbert and Patrick Case, 2017
- Review of the Peel District School Board, 2020
Anti-Black Racism at the TDSB

• December 2017 Toronto District School Board engaged in one of the largest consultations which resulted in “The Enhancing Equity Task Force” report.

• Report cited many barriers faced by Black students in classrooms and schools.

• Director’s Response to the report was interpreted through the priorities in the Multi-Year Strategic Plan.

• A Strategy for Black Student Achievement and Excellence.

• Transforming Student Learning: Toward the Excellence in the Education of Black Students.
5 areas of focus

- Leadership Development
- Pathways & Transitions
- Special Education
- Suspensions and Expulsions
- Early Years
What our data tells us about the experiences of Black students at the TDSB

• Black students in general are less satisfied with their overall school experiences, more likely to report being bullied physically, and have less positive relationships with adults and peers in school (Yau et al., 2015)

• By the time Black students finish high school, 42% have been suspended at least once compared with 18% of other students (James and Turner, 2017)
Next Steps

• TDSB will fund a new TDSB Centre of Excellence for Black Student Achievement

The first of its kind in public education in Canada

The Centre is one of TDSB’s responses to dismantle anti-Black racism within the school board and improve both experiences and outcomes for Black students

Early Struggles in Nursing

- Black women denied participation in War efforts
  - Black Cross Nurses (1914-1918) – care; first aid
- Not admitted until late 1940s/ early 1950s
  - Pressure from community
  - Influx during 1960s
  - Difficult to be admitted – forced south
  - United States (1870s)

(Calliste, 1996; Das Gupta, 1996; 2009; Etowa et al., 2009; Flynn, 2009; Hagey et al., 2001; Keddy, 2018 Premji & Etowa, 2014)
Systemic Roots

- Racism and slavery in Canada
  - 1600s enslaved or “freed”
  - Intergenerational trauma
- Segregation (formal and informal)
  - Education, housing, burial
- New and old racism
  - Overt vs. systemic processes
- Image of “nurse” vs. image of Black women
  - Feminine – middle-class; white
  - Brute; lacking intelligence; lazy

- All of which maintain systemic and institutional oppression

(Calliste, 1996; Flynn, 2009; Pachai, 1997)
Bernice Redmon

And Still We Rise! African Nova Scotian Nurses Leading Change
African Nova Scotians

- Indigenous Black people
  - Arrived in 1600s; enslaved or “free”
  - 2.4% of NS population (22,000)
  - Rich history & SES challenges

- 2014 UN Declaration of 2015-2024 as the Decade for People of African Descent

(ANSA, 2016; Pachai, 1997)
Nursing Leadership

- Instilled throughout education (all levels)

- Shifts in health care policy, practice and structure

- Competencies and capacities

- Formal (managers, charge nurses) and informal (mentoring, coaching)

(CNA, 2009; Downey, Parslow & Smart, 2011; Ferguson, 2015; Huston, 2008)
Nursing While Black in Canada

- Documented cases of racism in ON and PQ
  - Historic settlements
  - Perpetrated by patients, colleagues*, superiors
  - Countless undocumented/untold stories
- Concentrated in entry-level; non-specialty; unlicensed clinical roles
- Underrepresented in advanced practice; leadership & specialty care
- Practicing on the margins of the profession

(Calliste, 1996; Das Gupta, 1996; 2009; Etowa et al., 2009; Flynn, 2009; Hagey et al., 2001; Keddy, 2018 Premji & Etowa, 2014)
State of the Literature

- Heavily dominated by American literature
  - HBCUs
  - Race-based data

- Canadian research
  - Immigrant nurse experience
  - Central Canada

- Little research on the ANS experience in nursing esp. leadership
Problem

- There is a dearth of evidence regarding the experiences and representation of ANSs in nursing leadership.
Purpose and Objectives

Research Purpose

• To uncover the leadership experiences of African Nova Scotian nurses in health care practice.

Research Questions

• How does race, class and gender interact to influence the leadership of ANS nurses?
• How do ANS nurses perceive leadership?
Methodology

- Black Feminist Theory (Collins, 2000; Davis, 1981; hooks, 1984; Lorde, 1984)
  - Experiences, ideas and interpretations of Black women
  - Focuses on intersecting oppression of race, class, gender and more
  - Collective experience

- Critical Discourse Analysis (Hodge, 2008; van Dijk, 1993; 1995; 2013)
  - Studies text and social use of language
  - Production and reproduction of power through discursive, social and cognitive structures
  - Collective and individual concern
Data Collection

- Participant Interviews
  - One-on-one
  - Semi-structured

- 18+ ANS nurses (LPN, RN, APN)

- Sampling: Purposive – snowball and maximum variation
